Just go Offers Motorhome Hire in New Zealand

Just go, the leading motorhome hire company in the UK, is pleased to announce the expansion of its Motorhome hire operation in New Zealand.

Based in Glenfield, Auckland, the Just go hire fleet operates all year round using the same models of motorhomes as its UK parent company. The New Zealand operation has allowed Just go to provide its existing UK clients with an alternative destination for motorhome hire, as well as assisting New Zealanders and Australians wanting to visit the UK and Europe. Having demonstration vehicles in New Zealand, allows customers to have a good look round the different motorhome models before embarking on their holiday.

Hakan Steele, Just go's New Zealand Managing Director commented: "We have a lot of New Zealanders and Australians going over to Europe to hire our vehicles, so it made sense that we set up a New Zealand based operation to support our customers. With so many key sporting events in New Zealand and Europe during 2010/11, Just go has the perfect solution for travel and accommodation.

'We would like to encourage our customers to either call us or drop into the office to talk with us. Each member of staff has worked out of the UK office, so can offer real advice and knowledge on traveling in the UK & Europe. "

The UK Operation

Just go operates a dedicated hire fleet where each motorhome is less than two and a half years old. There are six different models to choose from, and all have as standard; XBOX 360/DVD player, a CD player, microwave, reversing sensors and air conditioning. The bathrooms have a separate shower & toilet unit and the kitchens are well stocked with all the crockery, cutlery and cooking utensils supplied. Campsite essentials such as electricity hook-up cables and water hoses are also provided. Creature comforts such as linen, bikes, generators, picnic kits etc are available for hire.

The UK depot is based close to Luton, Stanstead and Heathrow airport and the staff at Just go would be happy to arrange a taxi to meet customers off the plane. Alternatively the staff can advise on local bus and train routes.
